Editor with seven years across long-form features, branded content, and digital newsrooms. Comfortable shaping a 4,000-word investigative piece or trimming a homepage explainer on deadline. Known for clean line edits, calm pitch meetings, and writers who keep coming back.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Editor, Wildwater Media, Portland, OR	2021 – Present
- Lead a desk of nine staff writers and a rotating group of freelancers across culture, climate, and politics verticals. - Edited a three-part series on regional water rights that drew 412K unique readers in its first week and was picked up by two syndication partners. - Rebuilt the freelance pitch inbox into a tracked Airtable workflow, cutting average response time from 11 days to 3. - Coach two junior editors through weekly line-edit reviews; both were promoted within 18 months. - Sit on the standards committee that rewrote the outlet's source-verification policy in 2023.
Associate Editor, Northbridge Quarterly, Boise, ID	2018 – 2021
- Handled features running 2,500 to 6,000 words, from first read through fact-check and copy. - Helped relaunch the print-to-web pipeline so longreads went live within 48 hours of issue close, down from two weeks. - Wrote and edited the weekly newsletter, growing the open rate from 21% to 34% over two years. - Built a stable of roughly 30 freelancers covering the Mountain West.
Editorial Assistant, Saltgrass Books, Boise, ID	2017 – 2018
- Proofread manuscripts and tracked changes across three imprints. - Drafted catalog copy and back-cover summaries for about 20 fall titles. - Coordinated travel and event logistics for two senior editors during the AWP conference circuit.
